Answers search after rider death

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

AN appeal for information is being launched by the owner of Beer Village Store.

Bob Chudley, owner of the village shop on Fore Street, lost his partner Gill Ashley last year after she was thrown from the horse she was riding along Paizen Lane.

Sixty-year-old Gill was found lying in the lane by holidaymakers - a short distance from her unmounted horse. She was wearing protective body armour and a riding helmet.

Paramedics and police were called and CPR was carried out but the grandmother-of-six was declared dead at the scene.

A post mortem examination took place and the cause of death was given as a fracture of the cervical and thoracic spine. Now the inquest into Gill's death has been adjourned and Mr Chudley is still looking for answers.

The inquest was held at Devon County Hall on Monday last but had to be adjourned after criticism from Paul Ashley, Gill's son, about the investigation into the case. The coroner said the inquest was not the correct forum for Mr Ashley's questioning and adjourned proceedings before delivering a verdict.

In an interview with Pulman's View, Mr Chudley said he was not looking for revenge or retribution but peace of mind.

He said: "Gill died at approximately 12.30pm on September 30th 2010 while quietly riding her horse up Paizen Lane from Beer. Her injuries were consistent with being thrown from her country-wise, placid horse, as a result of the horse rearing up.

"There has been no information to explain how this has happened and the inquest into Gill's death has been adjourned."

Speaking at the time of the incident a police spokesman said: "At around 12.30pm on Thursday, September 30th, two holidaymakers came across an unmounted horse on Paizen Lane, Beer.

"Further along the lane, which is a small track off Quarry Lane, they came across the body of a female rider who was wearing her protective body armour and riding helmet.

"CPR was carried out by the holidaymakers, police and ambulance service, but the local woman was subsequently declared dead at the scene."

Mr Chudley added: "If I didn't think that there were some questions that needed to be answered I wouldn't be doing what I am doing. I know that I can't bring Gill back but I just want to know what happened.

"I am hoping someone somewhere might know something. What happened is something that I am always going to wonder about and I just need some sort of closure."

Mr Chudley has put posters up around the village appealing for information and anyone with information can contact him on 01297 24020.

Toilet plans are deferred

A CONTROVERSIAL Seaton planning application has been deferred by East Devon District Council (EDDC).

Tesco submitted an application to demolish the toilet block at the Underfleet car park and create a public realm that will include seating and street lighting.

On Wednesday, June 8th, hundreds of people attended a meeting at Seaton Town Hall called by Sustainable Seaton and Seaton Development Trust to voice their concerns about the plan.

The main concern expressed by residents and business leaders in the seaside town was the possible loss of visitors that Seaton could expect if it lost the Underfleet facilities.

The application was deferred by EDDC planners during a meeting on Tuesday last and a decision could now be taken at a meeting on Wednesday, July 13th.

Crime down

CRIME levels in Seaton town are continuing to fall according to figures released by the town's police force.

A total of 18 offences were recorded last month, compared with 24 in the same period in 2010.

Included in the 18 recorded offences last month were five incidents of theft, four criminal damage reports and two assaults.

Officers in the town say they are continuing to target antisocial driving and antisocial behaviour, two of the Pact priorities for Seaton.

Police sergeant Richard Stonecliffe, of Seaton police, said: "We are particularly concerned about instances of antisocial driving around the town and in the Underfleet car park. These areas will be monitored regularly and any offenders will be dealt with firmly.

"Antisocial drivers are not welcome in Seaton."

Church fete

ST Andrew's Church, Colyton, will be the venue for a church fete on Saturday, July 9th.

The event will run from 2pm and is set to be held in the church grounds.

Refreshments, music and stalls will be available. A contribution of cakes can be donated on the day, to arrive at the church by 11am.

Visit marred by anti-social youths in fishing village

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

A SWANSEA man has complained about anti-social behaviour in Beer.

Clive Reed was visiting the east Devon fishing village at the end of May and stayed at the Dolphin Hotel, Fore Street.

Mr Reed said he has no complaints about the hotel or its staff but was concerned about rowdy behaviour that occured on the streets outside the hotel during his stay.

In a letter sent to the chief inspector of Devon and Cornwall Police, Mr Reed said: "Our holiday was marred by anti-social behaviour during our two-day stay in Beer. We have visited Beer on a previous occasion and so knew of its beauty and charm.

"We stayed at the Dolphin Hotel on Sunday, May 29th and Monday, May 30th."

Mr Reed added that during the second night of his stay at the hotel trouble and anti-social behaviour flared up outside. According to Mr Reed the trouble started at 11.30pm and continued until 12.15am.

He said: "There does not have to be anti-social behaviour on the streets of Beer, or in the hotels. Visitors and local people alike do not have to put up with these disturbances.

"I feel annoyed at having to make a complaint about the wonderful town of Beer and the other local people we met.

"I hope that something will be done to alleviate this problem so that visitors to the area can enjoy the experience of visiting the Devon coast."

Devon and Cornwall Police has no record of the incident on its log.

A spokesman for the police said: "I've looked on our system and can't find any instances of anti-social behaviour in Beer at those times."

Speed check warning days

POLICE in Seaton have carried out speed checks at Coly Road, Colyton, as part of their Pact priorities.

The latest speed check event took place on Friday, June 10th.

During the hour-long operation, police recorded four motorists driving over the the 30mph limit.

A spokesman for Seaton police said: "We will be carrying out further checks in the coming weeks.

"The main purpose of these speed check days are to educate and warn drivers who commit offences."

EDDC challenge beach water test

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A LOCAL authority has challenged the way water quality was assessed for a beach guide.

The Good Beach Guide deemed last summer's water at Seaton's beach a potential health hazard.

The guide, published by the Marine Conservation Society, used test results from the Environment Agency and graded them against the EU's Bathing Water Directive.

But East Devon District Council (EDDC) has attacked the criteria on which the guide based its verdict.

An EDDC spokesperson said: "It is unfortunate that the Bathing Water Directive uses just 20 individual samples taken once per week throughout the bathing season [mid-May-September].

"The directive dictates that a poor test result of water samples from just two of these days in any year should determine the overall annual description of the waters as a Fail, regardless of the water quality on the remaining 138 days and the fact that weekly test results for the remaining 18 weeks were good or excellent.

"We have had no incidents of ill-health reported to us which could have been linked to poor water quality at any of our bathing waters."

The spokesperson did not deny that the water quality could be poor on occasion, and explained: "Poorer water quality may prevail for up to 24 hours after heavy rainfall and it is unlikely that swimmers will be in the sea during these conditions.

"All sea water will from time to time receive run-off from the land, particularly during periods of severe or prolonged wet weather.

"East Devon is a predominantly agricultural area and the Environment Agency and South West Water continue to work hard with local landowners to reduce incidents of direct run-off into rivers and estuaries.

"We do have warning signs which can be placed on the beaches advising against swimming if we are able to predict that, because of extreme weather conditions, the bathing water is unlikely to meet the area's usual high standards. So far this has not been necessary but we do remain vigilant.

"Bathing water results are displayed at all of our beaches which give a more accurate week to week picture than the single interpretation based on a summary of the 2010 results quoted by the Marine Conservation Society."

Gym voters

NEARLY 200 people turned out to vote on their favourite design for an outdoor gym in Seafield Gardens, Seaton.

As reported last week, Seaton Town Council, the Senior Council for Seaton and East Devon District Council (EDDC) have worked with Seaton residents to create a free-to-use outdoor gym.

Three deisgns were shortlisted for public display and voting in The Square on Saturday, June 18th.

An EDDC spokesperson said: "The turnout was impressive, despite the rainy weather, with 187 residents of all ages coming along to vote for which of the three options they preferred.

"The winner, with 61 per cent of all votes was option B — a design from Fresh Air Fitness which up to 21 people can use at once.

"EDDC will now contact the company who submitted the successful design and work with them to get the gym installed."

District councillor Stephanie Jones added: "I want to say a very big thank you to everyone that took the time to come and vote.

"I'm really pleased that people in the town have had the opportunity to decide how the area will look."

Bike damage

A SCOOTER parked in Old North Street, Axminster, has been damaged.

It is not known how the damage occurred but police say it happened at some point between 10pm on Saturday, June 18th and 5pm the following day.

Anyone with information that could help investigators is asked to call police on 08452 777 444.

The reference is KA/11/245.

Hull withdraws from chamber role over 'political' spat

A BUSINESS breakfast has prompted a town councillor to withdraw from his role as the authority's representative on Axminster Chamber of Commerce.

Axminster Town Council member Douglas Hull, who is a Liberal Democrat, says the chamber should not raise money for a political party.

Chamber bosses agree, and stress the organisation is not fundraising for any political party.

Conservative MP Neil Parish was scheduled to attend a business breakfast at Whitty's, Axminster, which is owned by chamber vice-chairman Duncan Colvin, on June 10th.

The event was mentioned at a chamber meeting earlier this year, and members were also sent information on chamber-headed paper.

The breakfast never happened as interest was low, but councillor Hull said: "I don't think it is the duty of the chamber to raise money for a political party."

Chamber chairman Shane Morgan said: "Quite right," and stressed the chamber is not involved in politcal fundraising.

He added: "It was not a chamber-organised event. As a chamber we were just spreading the word that the event was taking please.

"The chamber is interested in having an open dialogue with our MP because it is good for business.

"What political party the MP is is irrelevant.

"The flier was printed on chamer-headed paper, which may have caused confusion.

"In hindsight, we won't do that again."

Mr Colvin added it was a private booking by the Conservative Association, open to all businesses in the EX13 area, and added: "It was not a fundraiser.The flier was my mistake.

"Because I'm vice-chair [of the chamber], maybe they thought I was organising it as a chamber event."

Tool centre cyclists take part in ride

A TEAM of 20 cyclists from Axminster Tool Centre will be taking part in this year's Force Cancer Charity Century Challenge on Sunday, June 26th.

This year is the fourth year a team from the company has entered the challenge and team member Tone Whitehurst said: "Force is a most worthy charity. Based in Exeter, it helps and supports cancer sufferers and their families.

"Just to put things into context, at some time in their lives one in three people will be affected by cancer either directly or through a close friend or relative being diagnosed."

Anyone who would like to sponsor the Axminster Tool Centre team should visit the Axminster Tool Centre shop on Trafalgar Way. Donations can also be made online at http://forcecancercharity.co.uk/fundraising-and-events/century-cycle-challenge-2011.

Vandalism to parked motor

AN orange Ford Fiesta was damaged twice when parked in Lyme Close, Axminster.

The first phase of vandalism was discovered at about 9am on Saturday, June 18th.

A second attack was discovered the following day and police would like to hear from anyone who may have made observations.

The police log is 228 of June 18th, and information should be phoned in on 08452 777 444.

Couple awaits GP's apology - after five years

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

AN Axminster couple is seeking an apology from their GP.

Terry and Wendy Hart, of St Andrews Drive, say they have been waiting for an apology since 2006 after a complaint against Mr Hart was made by a doctor at Axminster Medical Practice.

In January 2006 Mrs Hart became ill and was taken to the practice on Church Street.

Mrs Hart says she received treatment at the practice but after collapsing at home for a second time was taken to the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital.

When Mrs Hart returned from the hospital she received further treatment at Axminster Medical Practice and it was during this phase of treatment that Mr Hart says a complaint was made against him.

According to the couple, a doctor accused Mr Hart of swearing and becoming aggressive and physically intimidating whilst attending the practice, something Mr Hart has always denied. In December 2006 a meeting was called at the practice involving the doctor who allegedly made the accusations, the Harts and a representative from the NHS Independent Complaints Advocacy Service to try and settle the dispute. However, the Harts say that the meeting failed to resolve the problem.

In an attempt to get an apology the couple have penned several letters to Neil Parish MP who in turn has contacted the Department of Health and Care Quality Commission.

Speaking to Pulman's View, Mr Hart said: "All we have been asking for is an unambiguous apology for the false accusations made against me and I want the practice to acknowledge that physical intimidation by me did not occur.

"We don't want any financial gain out of this, just an apology. My wife has been in tears over this and it has made her illness worse and I am emotionally drained. The accusations have dragged my name through the mud."

Linda Coombes, practice manager at Axminster Medical Practice, said she was unable to comment on individual cases and added: "Clearly for reasons of patient confidentiality I am unable to comment on any aspect of a patients' care, and will therefore be unable to respond to any issues raised."

◆ ANN Jeffery and Harry show off their county show rosettes

Harry's debut wins bronze at Crufts contest

AN Axminster dog has enjoyed a flying start to his show career by getting a bronze medal at Crufts and claiming three best of breed titles at recent shows.

Two-year-old dachshund Harry is owned by Ann Jeffery and made his Crufts debut at NEC in Birmingham this year.

Entering the Dachshund Smooth-Haired category, Harry finished third in Postgraduate Class.

Ann said: "I didn't know how he would react going there. But he was absolutely fine and no trouble whatsoever.

"He took it in his stride."

She also said that Harry has won best of breed titles at the recent Devon, Royal Bath and West, and Royal Cornwall agricultural shows.

Harry has already qualified for Crufts next year, but has a busy summer schedule ahead of him before going back to NEC in Birmingham.

Ann said: "Most weeks he is in the show ring somewhere."

She added that forthcoming destinations include Windsor, Richmond and Kenilworth.

Future bright for town, says mayor

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

OTTERY mayor Glyn Dobson delivered an overall upbeat annual report, saying he believes the town will soon thrive.

In the report, he also promised residents that a family day will be staged on August Bank Holiday Monday.

Mayor Dobson is looking forward to the completion of the Thorne Farm Way to town centre bridge as well as the opening of a Sainsbury's branch.

He said: "You will have noticed the building of the supermarket taking place.

"This will now mean many more visitors to our town coupled with the free parking. I believe the town will thrive."

About the bridge, he said: "After approximately 15 years of planning this council can now see the benefit of the hard work by all the partners.

"The bridge has been started and the week commencing June 27th 2011 looks to be the time the bridge will be erected over the river.

"When completed this will give a safe cycle and pedestrian route to Thorne Farm Park Way the hospital and, of course most importantly, the pupils of The Kings School.

"Our grateful thanks to the partners in this project — East Devon District Council, Devon County Council, Sustrans and the Environment Agency without whom the bridge would not have been possible.

"August Bank Holiday will see the official opening and we are planning a family day out — so watch this space and I hope to see many of you there.

"I hope you will agree the council have worked extremely hard on your behalf and now all the projects are coming to a conclusion it is time to start on the next phase of our programme, with the factory [Ottermill factory site] being at the top of the list.

"At last we appear to be making progress although it is obvious there are still many problems to overcome.

"But at least the owner is talking to the council in a positive manner.

"Hopefully a planning application will be submitted by the end of the year.

"The council are continually making the point that the whole site is an eyesore not only for residents but for visitors to Ottery St Mary."

The mayor also thanked fellow councillors and staff for the support given to him

He said: "It would be impossible to be the leader without support and I count myself very fortunate to have a great team.

"Again many thanks to all councillors and staff for their support and I look forward to working with them all next year."

Residents pack meeting to air concerns over developments

By LUCIE SIMIC
lucie.simic@tindlenews.co.uk

FENITON Parish Council's monthly meeting was packed on Monday, June 13th as residents filled the village hall to air concerns over proposed developments in the village.

As previously reported in Pulman's View, Strategic Land Partnerships is proposing 122 new homes, business premises and community facilities on a site off Ottery Road, close to Feniton's railway station. A day-long public consultation was held at Feniton Sports and Social Club on Thusday, June 9th.

Around 100 concerned residents attended the council meeting along with district councillor Graham Brown, county councillor Roger Giles and district councillor for the Ottery Rural Ward Claire Wright — as the development is situated on land which is split between the Ottery Rural Ward and Feniton Ward.

Feniton Parish Council chairman Martyn Smith opened the proceedings by making reference to the Feniton Parish Plan, which was printed in February 2007, and clearly states that 70 per cent of the village's residents were against development. Mr Smith also raised concerns about previous problems with flooding and stretched village amenities, including the primary school.

Mr Smith said: "Feniton Parish Council will not support any development within the village whilst residents are opposed."

District councillor Graham Brown praised the turnout at the meeting. He said: "It is good that you [residents] have come out tonight to let us [councillors] know your feelings. We are in a difficult policy vacuum at the moment with a stalling Local Development Framework and the Regional Spatial Strategy.

"I believe that there will be some development in Feniton but it has to be good for the village."

A member of the public raised the issue of development timescales and another resident asked whether more housing was needed with work starting on the new Cranbrook village, development at West Clyst and permission for more homes at Cloakham Lawn in Axminster.

Councillor Giles explained his concerns over provisions for the community, flooding and issues with traffic. He said: "We need certainty that both the primary school and The King's School can cope with any extra development in the area. We will need provisions that enable the schools to provide for the village.

"There is also the issue of flooding in the village and the traffic created from the proposed 122 new homes. I believe that not a single house should be built until the flooding in the village can be sorted."

Feniton Parish Council chairman Martyn Smith closed the meeting by urging residents opposed to the development to write to MP Neil Parish. He told those in attendance that the council would be making arrangements for a census to establish the feelings of the residents of Feniton.

Caterpillar release party

SHUTE Community Primary School pupils' caterpillar project came to an end with a recent 'release party'.

The children brought science studies to life by rearing a brood of hungry caterpillars this term.

The pupils were involved along every step of the way and played an active role by doing anything from brushing up the caterpillar muck and keeping the caterpillar nursery clean to refreshing the nettles.

When the time was right, the butterflies were released during a recent bright and sunny day.

Headteacher Amanda Graham said: "The children have learned so much whilst looking after the caterpillars.

"The emerging butterflies captivated everyone's imagination and stimulated wonderful discussions amongst the older and younger pupils.

"This really was a fabulous school project."

Shopkeepers meet famous Dulux dog

TWO Ottery St Mary shopkeepers have met a four-legged national TV star.

Tony and Viv Abbott, of Abbott's DIY and Hardware, had an encounter with the Dulux dog at a recent trade exhibition.

The dog, real name Don, has been working with the paint company since 2006 and is six years old.

Viv said: "On meeting Don I couldn't believe how friendly he was, and how unbelievably fluffy he is. He is constantly being groomed."

To celebrate 50 years of the Dulux dog, Abbott's DIY, who also have a store in Seaton, are giving away fluffy toy versions of the iconic dog with every £30 spent on Dulux Paint products.

Comedy at the fun day

SEATON Primary School's Parent Teacher Association is holding a fun day at the primary school on Saturday, June 25th.

The event will run from 2pm until 4.30pm and will feature a comedy entertainer, bouncy castle, face painting, a variety of stalls and a display by the Fire and Ice Majorettes. Entrance costs £1 and children under two can enter for free. All funds raised will go towards the association.

Twinners entertain 41 French visitors

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A 41-STRONG French party from Douvres la De'livrande had plenty to write home about when visiting Axminster as part of the annual twinning exchange between the towns.

This year it was Axminster Twinning Association's turn to host, and a varied programme of activities was offered.

A welcome party and reception was staged in the morning of Saturday, June 11th in the guildhall so the visitors could be officially welcomed by Axminster mayor Andrew Moulding.

Billeted with local families, the visitors spent the afternoon with their respective hosts before attending a barn dance in All Saints Village Hall.

A hog roast was served and those in attendance were also treated to a dance performance by members of Seaton-based Confi-dance and some young French visitors.

The following day's picnic had to be moved from a garden to an indoor space at Axe Valley Community College because of heavy rain.

But a good time was had as a quiz and a concert were laid on.

The concert featured perfomances by Ricky Romain, Jon Sterck, The Saxbuster Group, Tom Floyd and Rhiannon Llewellyn.

◆ SOME of those who attended Axminster Twinning Association's welcome party in Axminster Guildhall, including MP Neil Parish, right

Before heading back home on the Monday evening, the French visitors split into three groups.

One group opted for a walk with a pub lunch, another group played golf and the third one caught the train to Exeter for a guided tour of the cathedral and shopping.

Axminster Twinning Association chairman Caroline Hillyard said about the visit: "It was a huge success and we had good feedback from our guests.

"The links are going from strength to strength."

Axminster twinners will travel to France for next year's exchange, but Caroline stressed that other activities are staged for members throughout the year.

She also emphasised that the association is open for everyone in Axminster and its surrounding area, and members don't have to speak French.

Anyone interested in joining is welcome to call Caroline on 01297 344 97 or email Arksteerer@aol.com for more information.

COMPLETE MEATS

Butcher Reaches National Finals

8 June 2011

Complete Meats was one of seven regional champions who gathered last week at the prestigious Butchers' Hall in London to complete for the title of Champion of Champions with their pork products. The aim of the competition is to demonstrate product excellence and quality which goes along with the service and skill that is present on our high streets and in farm shops.

Each year a team from British Pig Executive travels around the country searching for the best products from local butchers. Complete Meats won two first place awards last November in the South West for their Traditional Plain Pork Sausage and the Specialty Ploughman's and as a result was invited to the finals.

Keith Fisher, BPEX butchery and product development manager, said: "This has been an exciting culmination of another incredibly successful year for the roadshow. We saw hundreds of butchers on our travels around the country and an extraordinary amount of top quality products come through for evaluation. The seven regional champions here today have achieved something to be very proud of."

All of the seven products were taste tested by the toughest of critics – members of the public. On the day the Complete Meats pork sausages were piped to the post by a pork pie! The winners received an original water colour painting and all the runners up a limited edition commemorative print.

The judges say that the products are getting better and better, and the level of innovation is outstanding.

Local designer wins award at ethical contest

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A COMPANY founded by former Colyton Grammar School pupil Carry Somers, and originally based in Axmouth, has won the Fashion and Accessories category at the Observer Ethical Awards in London on June 9th.

Pachacuti is these days operating from Derbyshire and Carry said: "Pachacuti was founded whilst I lived in Axmouth and the business operated from there for four years before moving to its current location.

"As a pioneer in ethical fashion, I believe that it is important not to be complacent but to keep on pushing the standard higher, which is why we became the first company in the world to be Fair Trade Certified by the WFTO and are now piloting an EU project on geotraceability.

"I am delighted to receive this award in recognition of the hard work which my staff and I have put into creating a Fair Trade, sustainable supply chain for our Panama hats, clothing and accessories and the benefits which this has brought to our producers and their communities in the Andes."

The awards programme has a total of 12 categories for organisations and individuals whose work make day-to-day ethical living more accessible and achievable.

This year's other finalists were Christopher Raeburn who recycles parachutes into catwalk couture and French company Veja which makes shoes from organic cotton and tree-tap rubber.

In addition to Pachacuti's win in the Fashion and Accessories category, the Ethical Blog, a new category at this year's awards, was won by Pachacuti's press and marketing officer Pamela Ravasio for her ethical fashion blog Shirahime.

Mixed feelings over new B&B legislation

A BED and breakfast proprietor in Axminster says relatively new legislation has meant extra costs, but has also brought advantages.

With the holiday season well underway, Devon and Somerset Fire and Rescue Service (DSFRS) reminds guest house owners that they must have completed a fire risk assessment.

Joy Raymond, of Hedgehog Corner Bed and Breakfast, said that many guest house owners are unaware of the requirement.

In a statement issued through DSFRS, she said: "First and foremost I want to sleep soundly in the knowledge that me and my guests are safe. The implications of this relatively new legislation in which the owner is responsible for fire safety came into force in 2006. "This applies to me despite 'only' having three guest bedrooms on the first floor of my bed and breakfast.

"The sleeping six rule no longer applies and I know for a fact that many owners are unaware that the new legislation applies to them.

"Yes, this has meant some expense such as fire doors to bedrooms and in public areas, emergency safety lighting, interlinked smoke and fire alarms, extinguishers and PAT testing to name some of the measures.

"However, on the bright side, it can go against tax, my property is properly protected, my customers can appreciate my professional approach to my business and most of all should an insurance claim arise I can be confident that my claim would be met."

More information is available online at www.dsfire.gov.uk.

Food hygiene ratings begin

THE Food Hygiene Rating Scheme (FHRS) has been introduced by East Devon District Council's (EDDC) environmental health team.

The national scheme, developed by the Food Standards Agency (FSA) in partnership with local authorities, provides information on food hygiene standards.

Food outlets such as restaurants, takeaways and pubs are inspected by food safety officers from the council's environmental health service. The hygiene standards found at these inspections are rated on a scale ranging from zero at the bottom (which means urgent improvement necessary) to a top rating of five (very good).

These ratings will be available for anyone to view on the FSA website at www.food.gov.uk/ratings and the food business will be given a sticker and certificate and be encouraged to display these at the entrance to its premises.

Reed new padre for Devon cadets

ARMY cadets in east Devon have their own padre after the Reverend Steven Reed concluded his induction training.

He is working closely with A Company, which covers east and mid-Devon and Devon Army Cadets as a whole.

He said: "This is a great opportunity for me to serve local teenagers in an excellent organisation which has some very gifted and committed adult instructors."

Company Commander Major Mervyn McColm commented: "We are very pleased that Steven is able to work alongside our team.

"His talks on character, faith and Army core values have been well received by the cadets.

"He also lends our members a friendly and confidential pastoral ear."

Steven is in full time ministry at Hemyock Baptist Church.

He served for nine years with the Army Intelligence Corps following which he was a senior manager in industry.

Joyce gives 'friends' £500

A CHEQUE worth £500 has been handed over to the Seaton and District Hospital League of Friends.

Joyce West, of Colyford Road, has just returned home from a charity trip to Zimbabwe.

The trip saw Mrs West looking after lions at a breeding and rehabilition centre at Gweru, a two-hour truck ride from the main airport at Bulawayo.

Before she left for Africa Mrs West collected sponsorship and the final amount was handed over to the league of friends on Thursday, May 26th.

The money will be used to purchase Dyna pad leg troughs, a piece of equipment used to protect patients' heels from developing pressure ulcers.

War hero is remembered

AN east Devon village is set to remember one of its forgotton heroes.

Allan Newton was born in Beer in 1891. During his childhood he moved away to Cardiff and during the First World War he was posted to the Western Front.

He was killed in action on May 8th 1915. Mr Allen has no known grave and his name did not feature on the Beer war memorial — but all that is about to change.

A committee has been formed in the fishing village and they will be staging an exhibition in November, to coincide with Remembrance Sunday — the event will also see Mr Allen's name inscribed on the Beer war memorial.

One of the exhibition organisers, Richard Scott, said: "The planned exhibition will commemorate Allen Newton and the 37 other men and one woman from the village who died in the two world wars, together with those who served and returned.

"The exhibition organisers would like to hear from any Second World War veterans and surviving relatives of those who served in either war, and would be very grateful for any recollections, photographs, documents or other items which could be featured in the exhibition. Photos and documents could be copied so that precious originals need not be displayed."

For more information, contact Mr Scott on 01297 24157 or email richard@underleys1.fsnet.co.uk.

Heath fire disaster for our wildlife

THE appalling heath fire which devastated a third of the Upton Heath nature reserve, on June 9th is a disaster for wildlife and it will take at least 20 years before the area and its natural life recovers.

Dartford warblers, their numbers already halved by the cold winter, have been wiped out as, too, have nightjars recently arrived from Africa to breed on the heath, while thousands of reptiles, including all the six British species, have been destroyed along with countless invertebrates. The entire ecosystem has suffered total wipe-out. The heat was so intense that the seedbank in the ground will have suffered, and this in turn will have a negative effect on the ability of the site to recover.

I have seen heartbreaking photos of a roe doe searching amidst the blackened heathland for her days-old fawn, itself a charred corpse. The destruction of this heathland is truly an epic wildlife tragedy. Was it a natural fire or was it started deliberately? If the latter the culprit(s) should hang his or her head in shame.

On a more cheerful note I understand that the rare and elusive brown hairstreak butterfly has been found near Axminster in a survey carried out by Butterfly Conservation Devon and funded by the Blackdown Hills AONB. Flying in late summer and early autumn, this attractive little butterfly, with orange-tipped wings, spends much of its time in the tree canopy and is difficult to spot. However, volunteers are now needed to spot eggs which are found on blackthorn bushes. Training will be given to volunteers and anyone who would like to become involved in the brown hairstreak project should contact Roger Bristow, chairman of Butterfly Conservation Devon, on 01566 783188.

Meanwhile, an extremely rare bird put in an appearance in Colyford on June 7. The rose-coloured starling or pastor, a superbly marked pink and dark blue-black bird, was seen and photographed on a bird table by Sam Carlisle and Mike Lynch. Normally found in western Asia and south-east Europe, this handsome bird sometimes departs its usual range to wander north and west, with rare appearances in Britain. As a member of the starling family, it usually consorts with our familiar starlings, but is easily distinguished by its pink plumage and also, in the case of the male, by a crest.

Other unusual birds seen in the area include a redbacked shrike, a red kite, spotted flycatchers in Colyton and, oddest of all, a pair of free-flying lovebirds near Chard whose owner says that they return home at the end of the day. Let's hope a sparrowhawk doesn't take a fancy to them!

On the home patch my single pair of swallows do not appear to have made any attempt to nest, but simply roost in the barn and dart in and out during the day. I have checked old nests but so far they have remained empty. Puzzling!

I am winning the battle of the balsam! The wretched Himalyan invasive plant last year swamped hedgerows in a field where my wife keeps her hunter in the summer, but this year I am on top of the invader. For the past few weeks I have pulled up every plant that has dared to show its head. Fortunately, the roots have no grip and the growing plants are easily torn up, gathered and burnt. Now is the time to attack this colourful plant which, once it gets a hold, spreads like a cold virus, exploding its seeds for several feet in late summer. Riverbanks are being choked and native foliage overcome by the brash balsam. Wherever you see it, rip it up!

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

WITH the arrival of summer, to stay we hope, there are lots of events available.

At Exeter Cathedral the Cathedral Players will offer a special evening on Wednesday, June 29th at 7.30pm of readings about feasts and festivals.

The readers include Susan and David Gunn-Johnson and the event is staged in the Bishop's Garden. Entrance is £5 with wine and soft drinks available.

Then from June 24th to 26th the Royal School of Church Music is mounting a Gospel and Jazz Festival at Exeter Cathedral — enquiries and tickets to 01392 667080.

Nearer home and a little later, on Saturday, July 2nd there will be a performance of the Last Night at the Proms, with members of Exeter Cathedral Choir and the Sheldon Singers.

All this takes place by the lake at Coryhill, Combe Raleigh, Honiton, from 7.30pm – tickets are £10. Hot drinks will be on sale.

History has been made in Exeter's linked Diocese of Cyprus and the Gulf, covering Anglican churches in the Middle East where the first woman priest has been ordained at St Christopher's Cathedral, Bahrain.

She and her husband now move to Dubai where he will become the senior chaplain to the Missions to Seafarers and she will serve as chaplain at Christ Church Jebel Ali.

Here at home in Devon, members of Honiton Deanery Synod met last week for the first time after the three yearly elections.

The appointments of rural dean, lay chair, and secretary remain unchanged but the deanery is still searching for a treasurer.

This meeting and a subsequent one were considering the forthcoming voting regarding woman priests as bishops.

In the past week church newspapers in England have been carrying a twice yearly supplement entitled In Review and further information can be obtained from www.churchofengland.org.media.

This issue features the new Church of England website and our man in parliament,Tony Baldry, who would regularly answer questions about the Church of England in the House of Commons.

Church schools taking part in BBC Songs of Praise will, this year, celebrate the event on October 14th with a special service in Westminster Abbey. Further details are available on a special website www.natsoc200.org.uk.

As this issue goes to press the new Rector of Colyton Mission Community with its five churches is being licensed at Colyton by Bishop Bob of Crediton — recently seen at the wheel in the tractor rally.

CLUB NEWS

Society enjoys art celebrating June

ARTIST Lynda White was made welcome by the acting chairman and members of the Seaton and District Art Society at their monthly talk.

Lynda's choice for the demonstration was Celebrating the Month of June a delightful composition done in acrylic oils and acrylic inks.

Admiring the field of wild flowers with the hills in the distance one was drawn into the picture by Lynda's ability to create a vanishing point and a very colourful foreground of dog daisies and wild poppies.

All in all it was a painting to make one feel happy.

Lynda showed the members how to apply the acrylic oils and acrylic inks.

Working from one of Lynda's own photos she sketched in the outlines of the hills and fields, having previously prepared a pink water colour paper which she had mounted onto a board and taped.

Then with soft and creamy acrylic oil pastels she made marks on the paper creating the various shapes and sizes of the daisy and poppy heads in the foreground of the picture.

The higher the amount of pigment in the acrylic oil the brighter the poppies will be.

To achieve a washed look, Lynda said to add a little white spirit.

After a short break Lynda showed the audience how to apply the acrylic ink by putting a tiny amount of ink into a jam pot lid.

Then with a big brush dipped in clear water she applied the ink where needed.

The ink water wash did not obliterate the acrylic oils underneath.

When the ink was dry Lynda placed the picture on the level floor and with a sable brush sprinkled dots of red ink, by tapping the brush, which she then dabbed with a piece of kitchen towel to create the illusion of a field of poppies.

The audience were enthralled with Lynda's excellent demonstration and thanked her profusely.

The next meeting will be on July 4th when Christine Russell will be demonstrating on Landscapes in Interactive Acrylics.

The venue, as always, is at the Methodist Church, Seaton at 2pm. New members and visitors are welcome.

A further note for the diary is Seaton and District Art Society's Annual Art Exhibition at Seaton Town Hall, open to the public from Saturday, August 6th to Thursday, August 11th.

An entertaining WI event

PRESIDENT of Smeatharpe Women's Institute (WI) Gill Dennis introduced the evening's speaker, David Wilkes, who entertained the ladies with his Confessions of a Chiropodist.

He engaged the members with his gentle, humorous recollections of situations he had encountered as a chiropodist.

He went on to tell members of some of his experiences as a line judge at the Wimbledon Tennis Championships, where he was officiating over matches involving luminaries such as Pete Sampras, Bjorn Borg and the final time that Martina Navratilova won the ladies' championship on Centre Court.

After the talk Pam Parry thanked everyone who helped at the recent cream tea, which proved a profitable start for this year's designated charity.

Any members who had old photographs of people or events in the Blackdown Hills were asked to look them out as Michael Cooper would like to scan and upload photos into the Blackdown Archives data base.

Geraldine Field won this month's competition of a figure made from pipe cleaners.

Teresa Summerhayes had the winning Flower of the Month.

Next month's meeting will be a bangers and mash evening, rounded off with card games.

Ladies have birthday fun

AROUND 35 ladies enjoyed a birthday dinner on April 19th in Axmouth Village Hall.

The meal was cooked and served by Monica's Country Kitchen and, as usual, it was delicious. The evening was great fun and rounded off with a game of bingo and a good natter.

At the May meeting of Axmouth Women's Institute the group discussed this year's resolutions.

Firstly the proposed mega farms. The arguments for and against had members fairly split down the middle which made for a lively discussion.

Secondly, the issue of library closures which concerned all of the ladies.

The speaker came from the Coastguard search and rescue or, as he explained, sometimes search and recover.

Mac Mclaren gave the women an interesting and moving talk about his involvement with the Penlee lifeboat tragedy as he knew a number of the crew.

He made the group laugh when he discovered finding a lady crew member on board the new Penlee boat and how polite the rest of the crew became.

He talked about the volunteers who man the national coast watch and how vital they are to the safety of the coastline.

He also took members through a mayday situation step by step. The members had many questions at the end.

The next meeting will be on June 21st and visitors are very welcome.

MOT CENTRE Tel 01297 639 850

Now open, serving Axminster, the surrounding areas and beyond, is the newly opened Compass Motorcycles MOT centre. Situated on the Millwey Rise Industrial Estate, it's kitted out with the latest test equipment, and one of the best test bays in the area. Owned and run by Andy North, a life long Axminster man. Andy has worked in local garages since 1990, a bike enthusiast for many years, he has now made the transition into motorcycle testing. When asked about his new venture Andy said, 'As a bike fan, it's my wish to make having your pride 'n' joy or your daily commuter a less worrying experience when it comes to MOT time.'

As well as taking care of all your MOT needs, Compass Motorcycles also offer routine servicing, batteries, brakes and tyres at competitive rates.
A friendly, trustworthy business that's run with Christian values, a warm welcome and a hot coffee for all it's customers.

Andy would like to say a big thank you to all those who helped and supported getting the business up and running.

Diaz sets a bad teacher example

ELIZABETH Halsey (Cameron Diaz) is a booze-addled wreck, draining her drippy, rich boyfriend dry until he finally musters the courage to dump her.

So she reluctantly returns to her teaching job at a high school run by Principal Wally Snur (John Michael Higgins).

Rebuffing the advances of oafish PE master Russell Gettis (Jason Segel), Elizabeth sets her sights on handsome new teacher Scott Delacorte (Justin Timberlake), who has an expensive watch on his wrist.

Unthinkably, Scott resists her flirtations and begins a tender romance with the school's prim and proper teacher, Amy Squirrel (Lucy Punch). Elizabeth is used to getting her own way and she declares war on Amy.

It's a morality tale for our fame- and power-driven times: succeed at all costs. Diaz is a gifted comic actress but she is on a hiding to nothing here, never quite hitting the target with the lacklustre one-liners.

Punch is more appealing as the victim of Elizabeth's cruelty while Segel and Timberlake vie for their leading lady's affections, the latter poking fun at his Trousersnake tag in the film's obligatory gross-out moment.

Axe Vale Festival 2011

Tony Benger will be celebrating 25 years in the landscaping industry.

Having started in 1986 in a small way the company has grown to now employ 30staff and a small fleet of vehicle.

Tony works closely with a number of talented garden designers from his base at Burrow Farm Gardens, dealing with commercial and residential contracts.

The company has won 3 National landscape awards, Contractor of the Year for Redrow and the Prince of Wales Award for training. Burrow Farm Gardens was started by Mary Benger, Tony's mother, who developed a field into the attractive gardens they are today.

With their yearly exhibits in the Floral Marquee they have won numerous 'best in show awards' at the Axe Vale Festival and this year will be moving from the Floral Marquee to join Tony outside in his celebrations.

Exhibiters are coming tyo the show from as far away as Cheshire, Staffordshire, Cambridgeshire and Buckinghamshire.

THE Axe Vale Festival is here again, this year building on the success of previous festivals the show will have plenty to do for all the family and ages.

The festival will feature a number of stalls, events and halls for visitors to explore.

The Festival is held annually - usually on the third weekend of June. It is run entirely by unpaid volunteers who work from their own homes. We have an office which is kindly provided by Axminster Carpets.

Other volunteers also assist with the preparation of the Show, its organisation during the event and clearing up afterwards.

Axe Vale Festival Ltd is a voluntary Registered Charity - No. 1130829 - raising funds for local organisations. Registered in England & Wales - Company No. 6500554. Registered Office - Thomas Westcott, Timberly, South Street, Axminster EX13 5AD.

The Spirit of the Community is a marquee organised by Mrs Claire Morgan, who can be contacted by Telephone: 07788 917010.

The Spirit of the Community features stalls of members of the Axminster Chamber of Commerce. In 2009 it included: Axminster Quilt Store, Bikenutz, The Paint Pallet, Gilly's, Spotty Chicken, Essential Beauty, ARC, Cloerin, Axminster Printing Co.Ltd., Bath Travel, Alot 4 Tots, Marmalade, Cloakham Lawns, Wells Carpet Brokers, White Gold, Piggin Good, Piggin Good Tea Shop, JWJ Joinery, Glyniss George Interiors, Axminster Tourist Information Centre, Action for Axminster, Axminster Chamber of Trade and Industry, Axminster On-Line, Axe New Media, Alliance & Leicester, Arts Cafe, Axminster Drama Club, Bethenal Centre, Axminster Antiques, River Cottage, The Utility Warehouse Discount Club, Axcis, Norton Memorials, Busy Bee, Honey Toast, Pretty in Pink, Hilary Sharpe - Acupuncture & Chiropractic, The Old Inn Kilmington and Paynes Premier Travel.

TOYS & HOBBIES:

The Toys & Hobbies Marquee is organised by Mrs Margaret Astbury who can be contacted by Telephone: 01297-35077.

Most of the exhibitors in this marquee demonstrate their interests, rather than sell items. Last year they included: replica model shops of Axminster and Chard, model boats and horse drawn carts, office machinery, a dolls house, M&M sweet merchandise, patchwork quilting, toys, Bakyo models, horse brasses, coiled clay vessels, gypsy caravans, prams, Mamod steam engines and a display by the Devon Birdwatching Society.

Exhibitors wishing to have a stall are advised to read the Exhibitor's Guide on the website. In order to avoid too much duplication of any particular hobby, some exhibitors may not be granted a stall every year.

AXMINSTER AND DISTRICT HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY:

Information, schedules and entry forms for the Axminster & Distict Horticultural Society Annual Show can be obtained from David Johnson (Tel: 01297 32196) or Margaret Spencer-Brown (Tel: 01297 35838), or from Busy Bee Florists, South Street, Axminster.

Competition Classes are: Floral Decoration, Flowers, Pot Plants, Shrubs, Vegetables, Fruit, Handicrafts, Home Produce, Wine, Photography, Roses, Sweet Peas, Youth (under 12), Senior Youth (12 to 16 years) and Women's Institute Classes.

The Show is open to non-Society Members. The closing date for Entry Forms is 4.45 pm on Tuesday 20th June. Late entries cannot be accepted.

CHILDREN'S ACTIVITIES:

There is plenty for children to do at the Festival. In addition to the Bouncy Castle / Slide (the largest in the South of England), there are swingboats, fairground amusements and a Children's Entertainer. You can be assured that some of the Arena Events will both attract and involve the children and the ice cream stall is always a sure winner.

There are children's competitions in the Axminster & District Horticultural Society Marquee.

And for the very young there is a FREE creche manned by qualified staff, so parents can leave their children in safe hands while they tour the Festival.

DEMONSTRATORS:

Demonstrators in the Craft Marquee are organised by Mrs Angela Thurgood who can be contacted by Telephone: 01297-678275.

Outside Demonstrators are organised by Mrs Jackie Swarbrick-Pring who can be contacted on Tel: 01297-32163 Mob: 07885-320704.

Last year these included David Bell's gypsy caravan, Cane Corner / Caradon Country Chairs, Countryside Services, Escot Education, Exeter Wood Carvers, David Metcalff' Raku pottery firing, Colin Spiller old farm tools, Martin Symes wheelwright, Stonebalancing, Wessex Walker walking sticks, Woodland Arts Woodland Demonstrations and a sawmill.

Demonstrators wishing to have a stall are advised to read the Exhibitor's Guide on the website. In order to avoid too much duplication of any particular craft, some demonstrators may not be granted a stall every year.

AXMINSTER ART SOCIETY

The Axminster Art Society was formed in 1948 and is now an established group in the town with over 90 members. We hold monthly demonstrations and a number of tutored workshops.

The Society is an established feature at the Axe Vale Festival and displays around 120 paintings most of which are for sale. In addition unframed paintings and greeting cards are for sale.

The public are invited to vote for their favourite painting and the artist will receive a trophy presented by the Society.

A selection of members work and other information is on the Society's website www.axminster-art-society.org.uk

Conact: Clive Bareham on Telephone: 01460 221088.

CHARITIES:

Charity Stands are organised by Mrs Jackie Swarbrick-Pring who can be contacted by Tel: 01297-32163 Mob: 07885-320704.

In 2010 the following charities had stands at the Festival:

All Saints CofE Primary School, Axe Vale & District Conservation Society, Axminster Allotment Association, Axminster Awareness Centre, Axminster & District Lions Club, Axminster Senior's Forum, Cats Protection, Children's Hospice South West, Devon Wildlife Trust, Exeter Leukaemia Fund, Greyhound Rescue West of England, Guide Dogs for the Blind, Hospicare Axminster, Kilmington Primary School PTFA, National Trust,Otter Rotters Limited, Parkinson's U.K., Retired Greyhound Trust, RNLI Lyme Regis, Tools with a Mission.

CharitIes can rent space for stands at a reduced rate. Charities wishing to have a stall are advised to read the Exhibitor's Guide on the website.

CATERING:

A fully licenced bar. Food & drink can be obtained at the snack bars, where there is a covered seating area and in the Food Hall, while ice cream can be found at a number of sites throughout the ground.

The Licenced Bar is run by Cloakham Lawns Sports Centre who can be contacted by Telephone: 01297-34447.

Snack Bars are provided by West Country Flavours. They can be contacted by Telephone: 01179-606864 or 07879-680128.

Award-winning ice creams are provided by Styles Farmhouse Ice Cream, who can be contacted by Telephone: 01984-640255.

Lyman Design can take on any of your furniture needs

Obray Lyman of Lyman Design is a designer/maker of bespoke furniture and cabinetry.

He offers a complete custom fitting and build service where he will help you to solve a storage problem or design a unique piece of furniture to meet your requirements. On larger projects he'll do a photo-realistic CAD mock up for you so you can see exactly what the finished furniture will look like in your home.

He works with sustainable sourced hardwoods where ever possible and is now using Bamboo, because of its ecological and environmentally friendly properties. Bamboo is one of the fastest growing plants on earth, and although it is actually a grass, its wood-like properties and lovely colours make it an ideal material for furniture and cabinetry.

Obray's is dedicated to customer service and quality of workmanship and it is his close relationships with his clients that make him successful. He said "I learned that if you work hard and do, not just a good job, but an excellent job, your customers will be happy and you will never be short of work."

NOT LONG TO WAIT!

Axminster Drama Club's next production ANNIE the Musical will soon be here. The months of dedicated rehearsals by an amazingly talented cast have paid off as it's defiantly going to be a show not to be missed.

The stage version of Annie was made famous by the 1982 film choreographed by So You Think You Can Dance Judge Aileen Phillips. Unfortunately some of the best songs were left out of the film but will defiantly be appearing in Axminster Drama Clubs version of this smash musical. So aswell as all those well know songs Tomorrow....Hard Knock Life....Easy Street there are some new ones to enjoy such as Hooverville – a satirical look at the 1930's American depression... and Something Was Missing – a beautiful ballard sung by daddy Warbucks.

With great songs, terrific sets, some original 1930's costumes and a cast of 50 including 30 truly amazing children!.. and a really cute dog as well it's going to be a must see.

The production dates are Thursday 30th June to Saturday 2nd July with evening performances on each night as well as a matinee on Saturday 2nd. Tickets can be purchased from Archway Bookshop in Axminster in person or by calling them on 01297 33595 (or 01404 831089 after hours).

Tickets available from Archway Bookshop, Tel 01297 33595 with reductions for tickets purchased in advance.

North Carolinian folk singer debuts

OTTERTON Mill is hosting North Carolinian folk singer Chuck Brodsky's debut appearance in the UK on Friday, June 24th.

Chuck has toured extensively throughout the US, Canada and Ireland with the likes of Arlo Guthrie, Pete Seeger, Richie Havens and John Hartford.

However, this is the first time Chuck has brought his musical storytelling to British soil.

Chuck's song-writing marries barb-witted social commentaries with humanity and humour, telling the stories of everyday folk muddling through their lives.

Chuck combines a finger-picking guitar technique influenced by the Carolina mountains of his home, with traditional American folk.

He offers spoken introductions to his songs that many find as spellbinding as his colourful lyrics and he's certainly not afraid to take risks with his lyrics, often poking fun at political corruption and road rage, as well as the more down-to-earth theme of his own childhood mischief.

Otterton Mill is situated between Budleigh Salterton and Sidmouth on the River Otter, and more information about this concert is available on 01395 568521 or online at www.ottertonmill.com.

Chic and stylish family home close to the Grammar School £630,000

A fine and stylish four bedroom detached family home located in a quiet rural location on the outskirts of Colyford. Constructed by Langdale Homes in 2008 the specification has been substantially enhanced and improved by the vendors and now offers beautifully presented and superb accommodation with a spacious and flexible layout that includes a kitchen/family room over 31ft long and a stunning master bedroom suite with balcony. The attractive elevations are brick with timber and colour washed tudor-style detailing under a tiled roof and the exceptionally high specification offers an oak floor to living room and dining room, oak staircase, architraves and skirting boards, an oak fitted kitchen with granite worksurfaces. The accommodation comprises four bedrooms, master en-suite, family bathroom, drawing room, dining room, kitchen/family room, cloakroom and utility. Landscaped gardens and grounds surround the property. Double garage and extensive parking for a number of vehicles.

For more details please contact John Wood & Co 01297 20290

Substantial family home with annex and sea views £499.950

A superb and substantial 4 bedroom family house located in a prime position with private access to Cliff Field Gardens and the seafront. Constructed in the 1920's the beautifully presented accommodation has been substantially enhanced and improved by the vendors and has the benefit of a separate studio or 1 bed annexe. There are outstanding sea and rural views available from both aspects of the property. The landscaped gardens are a further additional feature of the property and the driveway provides parking for a number of vehicles in addition to the garage.

The accommodation includes drawing room, dining room, study, superb kitchen/breakfast room, cloakroom and sun lounge with the first floor comprising 4 bedrooms, master en-suite and family bathroom. The annexe comprises bed sitting room, kitchen with appliances, bathroom and a substantial loft storage area. Landscaped gardens and garage with ample parking for additional vehicles. The beautifully proportioned and presented accommodation needs to be viewed in order to appreciate both the quality of the accommodation and the superb setting.

The Annexe/Studio has been accessed by Milkbere Cottage Holidays as being suitable and should prove popular as a holiday let.

For more details please contact John Wood & Co 01297 20290

Quick Caymen R

IN the world of motoring you can never have too many Porsches to choose from.

The German firm has been particularly industrious of late, what with special edition 911s and expanding its Panamera line-up.

Thankfully it's also found time to bolster its Cayman range. For some this coupe is viewed as a mini 911, albeit one from a decade or two ago. Its more focused personality has seen it find favour with drivers seeking a back-to-basics experience but with all the electronic and comfort mod cons of today for good measure.

The Cayman is also a good bit more affordable than a modern day 911, although the gap does narrow somewhat when you start ticking boxes for the various tempting options. However, to view the Cayman solely as a cheaper alternative to the great 911 is to miss the point — it's also a fantastic car in its own right.

This notion has been further reinforced by the introduction of an R model. Following on logically from the not too shabby S model, you could say the R is aimed at the more demanding and appreciative of the Porsche fan club. That might appear to be a very narrow section of buyers, but don't forget that 911 GT3, GT3 RS and GT2 variants boast a considerable following despite their niche market positioning.

Granted, the Cayman R isn't supposed to be a mini-me GT3, but its specification more than hints at the potential for above average thrills — even in the context of an already quick donor car.

What you get for you money — a price tag that's closer to a 911 than you might first think — is something quite special. The Cayman R has lost a little bit of weight and gained a few choice improvements under the skin plus a few extra horsepower.

The Cayman's 3.4-litre flat-six motor now boasts 330 horsepower, which is 10 more than the S. It's already a peach of an engine, and while it's in its element being exercised to the maximum it's also torquey enough to happily trickle through town at low revs.

What makes the Cayman R that bit more special is the detailed suspension tweaks. A slightly lower ride height, camber changes fore and aft plus new anti roll bars, spring and damper modifications and lighter alloy wheels all add up to deliver a sublime experience for the discerning driver.

Factor in the car's already near-flawless steering and the ability to cover ground at a rapid pace while benefiting from the constant stream of feedback through the car's helm and seat is hard to beat. And considering the cornering forces the car can generate, those seats are reassuringly snug and supportive.

It's true that the ride is a little firmer than a regular Cayman but we're not talking GT3 RS firm here. Despite the lower ride height and various other changes, the Cayman R is still a car that can be confidently used every day. The fabric loop-style door pulls are a nod to the car's weight saving programme, although the deleted audio and climate control units can easily be added to the car's specification if you so wish.

Elsewhere, the performance is pure Cayman S — and then some. The car's standard-fit six-speed manual gearbox is a short-shifting device that's hard to beat for accuracy and feel. Of course, there's Porsche's optional seven-speed PDK box to consider, which adds an extra ratio to boost economy and refinement at motorway speeds. It's also darn quick — quicker than you or I — and allows you to keep both hands on the wheel and utilise the chunky steering wheel paddle shifters.

The Cayman R might be something of a specialist tool but there's no questioning its abilities. Getting the job done, be it a B-road blast or spirited track day experience, is the name of the game, and this particular Cayman delivers thrills in spades. If you know what you're doing the car will surprise and delight, but never scare, in equal measure.

A finely tuned machine for everyday use, the Cayman R is hard to beat at any price.

Volvo embraces app

VOLVO has embraced a mobile application that makes sure that the driver can stay in touch with their parked car via an iPhone or Android smart phone.

With this application drivers can control and monitor their car from anywhere at anytime. The mobile application is an extension of Volvo On Call, which originally focused on direct access to a call centre in the event of an accident or other emergency.

Now, owners of all new Volvo models from model year 2012 with Volvo On Call can download the new application that opens up a range of connectivity possibilities via an iPhone or Android smart phone. The mobile app is free and downloaded via the iPhone and Android application stores.

The mobile application includes a number of features including a car locator, and there is also a digital compass that points the driver in the right direction. If necessary, the car horn and indicators can be activated to facilitate the search.

There's also a remote door lock — the status of all doors and windows are displayed and the driver can lock and unlock the car with a push on the touch screen. Another feature gives the driver access to a wide range of information including fuel level, remaining range to empty tank, average fuel consumption, average speed, odometer reading and trip meter reading. There's also theft notification and if the car alarm is triggered the driver is alerted via the mobile app.

■ The Mazda MX-5 has been recently ranked the highest sports car in the 2011 JD Power vehicle ownership satisfaction survey. With almost 17,000 motorists from across the UK taking part in the highly-respected annual survey, owners of Mazda's iconic two-seater rated their cars well above the competition for its driving dynamics, handling, low ownership costs, mechanical reliability and interior quality.

Remarkably, the Mazda MX-5 notched up a satisfaction rating of 82.4 percent — an increase on its score from last year and an even greater margin of victory over its rivals than in 2010.

OVER THE HILL AND FARWAY 10K RACE

Ceri wins Queen of the Hills title

By KEVIN FAHEY
sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

CERI Oak, of Honiton Running Club, won the Queen of the Hills prize as top woman in the Farway 10k race on Sunday.

"This was the second time Ceri has competed in this race as she finds it a lovely course, and welcomes the challenge of one of the biggest hills in any 10k run," said a spokeswoman for the event.

A very popular runner-up was Julie Payne, who teaches at the Farway Primary School, which organised the race while Sally Torey finished third.

First man home in the field of 50 runners was Laurence Bolam of Sidmouth Running Club in a time of 37mins 33secs to put him well clear of Exmouth's Dave Stone, who achieved national headlines when setting a new world record when he completed the London Marathon dressed as comic book hero Superman.

It is worth noting that Bolam, who was making his debut in the race that is now in its third year, warmed up for the race by cycling from his Sidmouth home.

A total of 41 children also took part, with special achievements for Francesca Piper, Jake Williams, Phoebe Killen and Greg Grierson, although every single runner thoroughly deserved their medal.

Over the Hill and Farway 10k road race, east Devon – men: 1 Laurence Bolam (Sidmouth RC) 37:33; 2 Dave Stone (Exmouth) 39:08; 3 Adam Stobbs 39:35.

Women: 1 Ceri Oak (Honiton RC) 45:56; 2 Julie Payne (teacher at school) 48:30; 3 Sally Torey 49:16.

Super hero: Brent Dicks 55:18. Children's short race : 1 Francesca Piper. Boys: Jake Williams. Long race (upto 15) – girls: Phoebe Killen. Boys: Greig Grierson.

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

LAST Sunday, Chard Running Club held its Run in the Wild off road 10k race around the undulating grounds of Cricket St Thomas.

Six Honiton Running Club members took part and first back for the club was Steve Davey in a time of 50:52 and 33rd position managing to knock nearly 4 minutes off last year's time.

Next back was Vernon Gillard who was racing Run in the Wild for the first time. He finished 43rd in 52:23. Judy Davey was next back coming 81st in 57:40 managing 2nd in her category.

John Burgess was taking part in his second race of the weekend and ended up having a battle with Nick Bradley-Carter. John came in 93rd place in 58:41 and although off road is not Nick's favourite terrain. Preferring road running he has definitely improved and is determined to beat the gremlins.

He did very well to come 98th place in 59:32. Olivia Higginson also did very well once again coming 130th in 1:05:09. Conditions were excellent with the ground not too muddy and cool temperatures. The race was won by Nathan Young in 40:50.

Brent Dicks was joined by Clare Melbourne for this month's Yeovilton 5k and he was hoping to crack 21 minutes.

There was a fairly strong headwind at times and he was disappointed to finish in 21:44 and 72nd position. Clare Melbourne also felt she could have run better finishing in 27:55 and 122nd position but as it was her first attempt at this race she will have a benchmark for next time. As well as winning the Run in the Wild race Nathan Young also won this race in the incredible time of 15:48.

This was the first time the Umborne Ug race took place on a Saturday evening and it was an excellent move as the following day heavy rain fell.

It was the first time the race officials could fully utilise the flashy new village hall and very splendid it is too. Entrance was by voluntary contribution with money raised going to the upkeep of the hall.

Eight Honiton runners took part and the first position for the club was hotly contested by Bruce Strawbridge and Steve Davey.

Despite having a nosebleed half way round Bruce managed to hold Steve off coming back in a time of 47:11 and 9th place with Steve just 9 seconds behind. Honiton's Ceri Oak was 2nd lady overall collecting a bottle of wine and finished in 49:36 and 15th place.

Helen Davy was pursued by Judy Davey for almost the entire race and finished one place ahead of her and 14 seconds in 27th place with a time of 54:19. Judy also took home a bottle of wine for winning her category.

John Burgess managed to overtake Judy at one stage staying ahead of her for about 2 seconds but a hill ensued and he was forced to follow her for the rest of the race. He came 30th in 55:07.

Claire Pomeroy enjoys this race and was happy with her time of 1:05:04 and 53rd position and Wendy Williams was attempting this race for the first time and put in a gutsy effort coming 65th in 1:14:30.

The race was won by former Honiton member James Denne in 40:35 and there were 77 runners.

There was also a 2.5k fun run mainly for the younger runners and Honiton's Iain Ross was 2nd in 12:11.

Sasha Davy is too young to attend the club but she was 2nd girl beating her older sister, Morgan, who was 3rd. Sasha completed in 13:29 and Morgan 14:04. Katie Davey also took part coming in 14:13 just behind Morgan. Josh Coates of Axe Valley Runners won the race completing in 11:15. Thanks to all the organisers, mashals, especially Rick and Eleanor Wood and the landowners.

HONITON GOLF CLUB

Tuesday Mixed

FOURTEEN pairs played in the Mixed Greensomes Stableford Bader Cup last week.

The winning pair — making it a "hat trick" were Jan and John Dickinson with 40 pts. Second place were Dot Grove and Peter Eyles with 38 pts. Only one two was recorded by Pam Greenaway and Cyril Dann on the second hole and they received 16 balls. Jan and John now go forward to represent the club at Stover Golf Club in August.

Honiton Golf Club hosted the Devon County Vets Mixed Foursomes competition playing for the Flitch Vase. Over 200 players took part from clubs all around Devon. The winners of the trophy and the flitch of ham were home players Andrea and Stan Squire with 43 pts.

Senior Section

It's a fascinating part of life — the study of a group of people, normally engaged in the same occupation, but having totally different reactions when circumstances change.

So it was for Honiton Seniors' Seniors Cup last Friday. 73 players entered, but the overnight forecast of heavy rain cut the field to 55 taking to the fairways.

The forecast heavy rain materialised, and 31 of those decided to leave the field of play before the end, leaving 24 to complete the course just to prove that it was possible after all. What did they possess that the others didn't? The top 10 shared £136 worth of prize vouchers for the club restaurant. The redoubtable ten were: Mike Stroud nett 68, Ben Laite 71, Adrian Williams & Brian Morrison 73, John Dickinson 75, Ron Rogers 76, John Martin, Bob Milton, Harold Cook and Bob Cleal 77.

In the conditions it was not too surprising that the two's ball sweep was not won. The Seniors Emerton Court County Trophy team, will be taking a 4-1 lead to Fingle Glen for the away leg on Tuesday, and two Interclub matches were played during the week — Honiton 4 Enmore Park 3 and Teignmouth 3 Honiton 3.

FENITON BOWLING CLUB

IN the men's County Trophy competition, Feniton defeated Budleigh Salterton by 78-63 securing ten points.

In the over-60s men's triples league the A team defeated St Thomas gaining six points. However, the B team lost on both rinks to Ottery St Mary B.

The men's team also lost on all five rinks to Madeira in the Top Club competition. The ladies' team entertained Honiton on a very damp and miserable afternoon.

The match was curtailed after thirteen ends losing by 26-37.

On the Sunday, the club president, Glenys North, laid an excellent spread for President's Day. On a pleasant afternoon that was enjoyed by all competitors, the competition was won by Gill Smith, John Livings and Roger Smith with +10. The day was an outstanding success, as well over £150 was raised for the president's charity, the Devon Air Ambulance.

FIRST WITH THE SPORT EVERY WEEK

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

AXE Valley Runners had many members among the 50-odd people who turned up outside The Hook and Parrot in Seaton for a 17-mile fun fancy dress run, with five pub stops, on Saturday, June 18th.

Before the start, local celebrity Jim Knight judged the fancy dress with Jon Day winning the best dressed Indian (aka Little Big Horn) and Kelly Dack the best dressed Cowgirl.

The event started at 12.17pm on Dave Kelf's announcement and took participants through to Axmouth and Colyton followed by a wet ford crossing, with some runners choosing to do the breast stroke. Jobble Woods followed, then Morganhayes Woods and on to the Fountain Head where a beer festival was in full swing.

Only two dropped out before the run to the Sea Shanty, then up and over to Beer, where Gavin Warren pulled out with a hurt knee.

All bar three finished the event in high spirits.

It was an amazing achievement for Andy Hitchcock, Dianne Newton, Sam and Wayne Tooze and Clare Moles for completing their furthest run so far.

Phil Bayliss was Axe Valley Runners' quickest performer at the Ewelme 10k Chase in rural Oxfordshire.

Driving rain and blustery winds met the 455 starters who took on an undulating course that stretched out along bridleways, through beech woods, farm tracks and fields, and hilly country lanes .

It was all enjoyable scenic running for Richard Hale who finished 79th in a time of 45:15 and claimed first vet 60 prize.

Phil Bayliss was the first AVR home in 8th spot.

Sue Bennett and Harry Moore ran the Over the Hill and Farway 10K.

After running up the ridiculously steep Warren Hill, Sue thought she was definitely over the hill.

◆ AXE Valley Runners members in facy dress in Seaton

She battled on gamely to complete in 1:07, a great achievement as she only started running again in April after a long layoff.

Harry was pleased with his finishing time of 1:33:33

Meanwhile Paul Tolchard and Chris Irving decided to tackle something new and the Mendip Mashup set in the Mendip Hills above Cheddar Gorge caught their eye.

Within this large area of woodland, moorland, open farm land and valleys there were set out 50 check points, 45 of which were marked on a map and the remaining five were secretly located and had to be found along the numerous marked course routes and electronically recorded on a control dibber.

The checkpoints earned either 10, 20 or 30 points according to the difficulty of location and runners and other groups could decide to be out on course for 1, 2 or 3 hours as the fancy took them.

The catch was that for every minute late after the strict finishing time of 5pm, 10 points were deducted from the accrued score, so careful timing was important.

Paul and Chris set off at 2pm at the mass start with the runners choosing which directions they wished to take, a sort of running free for all.

After running as hard as they could for some 2 hrs and 53 mins they accumulated 490 points with no penalties which was most pleasing. It was a cracking day out in glorious countryside, with the added bonus of it being sunny and dry all afternoon.

The AVR annual general meeting was recently held at Beer Social Club and chairman Garry Perratt reported that it had again been a great year for the club.

Paul Johns also said the junior section was going strong with the youngsters really enjoying the circuit training at Colyton Grammar School and the Junior Grizzly was a great success.

Most of the committee are as last year, but there was a touch of sadness that Susie Pitt had to leave the treasurer's post.

She was presented with a gift and awarded honorary membership as a small token of thanks for all her hard work in all sorts of ways over the past years.

HONITON NETBALL LEAGUE

Division One

Flamingos 29, 'Visions 11; Bampton 13, Tip Top Trees 29; Bo-Peeps 25, Uplowman 39.

WITH just one week left to go it is still not clear who will be first division champions. Wasps can only wait for the outcome of next week's game between the second and third place sides – Angels and Flamingos – and it could all yet come down to goal difference!

Flamingos were up against 'Visions and needing to win to keep their title hopes alive. 'Visions after four straight wins followed by two big defeats were looking to improve. As it was Flamingos started the stronger and from there continued to dominate the game to win by 29-11 leaving 'Visions without a point and needing to beat Angels next week to stand a chance of the title. Rachel Burrows was the Flamingos star whilst Jackie Ditchburn had a good game for 'Visions in their last game.

The two sides at the bottom of the table – Bampton and Tip Top Trees were in action with both looking for their first victory of the season.

Both sides needed a win to help with their chances of avoiding relegation. With Danni Wakeley in good form at GA it was Trees who started the stronger and by half way they were 15-9 ahead.

With Deb Blakes playing well for Bampton it looked as though they could be in with a chance of at least a point going into the final period at 12-22 behind.

In the final quarter it was 3Ts who stepped up a notch to finish winners by 29-13.

The Trees had done what they could but now needed Bo-Peeps to beat Uplowman to stand a chance of avoiding the drop. Although Faye Webb did well for the Peeps it was Uplowman who triumphed thanks to some good play from Julie Heal in their 39-25 victory. This result confirmed both Uplowman and the Peeps as safe for another season in the top flight.

Wasps	[1]	7	+122	19

Division Two

NAS 20, Howden's Hawks 33

Only one game was on the fixture list for division two and that saw NAS up against Howden's Hawks. If NAS could beat Hawks then their promotion hopes were still alive.

As it was Hawks got off to a great start and by half way were 15-6 to the good thanks to fine centre court play from Hayley Ward backed up by good shooting from Nicky Vile. Going into the final quarter it was Hawks in control as they led 23-11.

In the final period NAS pulled out all the stops, with Chloe Sansom in great form and it went goal for goal as NAS did enough to gain a point from the game.

DUNKESWELL KART RACING CLUB

DUNKESWELL Kart Racing Club will host the 2011 Redstar Telecom South West Championships at Mansell Raceway on Sunday, June 26th.

There will be participants from right across the country; all eager to race at Mansell Raceway to challenge for the title of Champion and carry the prestigious SW plate on their kart.

Drivers as young as eight and all ages upwards will be pitting their wits and their skills around the circuit in the various classes to see who will be crowned the Redstar Telecom South West Champion 2011.

Jim Bee, publicity officer for Dunkeswell Kart Racing Club, explained that all gate receipts, fines issued by the stewards and money raised from the Driver of the Day Award, will be donated to the BBC Radio Devon Air Ambulance Appeal to help reach their target of £600,000.

Jim said: "The Devon Air Ambulance has always been on hand to help us and in recognition of the great work they do, it is a privilege to help raise money to keep them flying.

"There isn't a driver on the grid that wouldn't donate money as they know the air ambulance will be there if they ever need it."

The event warms up at 10am, with races going on through the afternoon until 6pm. Admission is £3 per person. More information is available online at www.dunkeswellkartclub.co.uk.

SEATON BOWLING CLUB

SEATON Bowling Club travelled to Bournemouth to play Pelhams Bowls Club on June 14th and lost by a single shot, 112 to 113.

On the next day four mixed triples played away against Bradninch and won by 76 shots to 64.

Top triple was Olive Blunden, Bob Benfield and Bob Scull.

On the same day Seaton beat Ottery St. Mary in the County Trophy.

On June 15th in the Exeter Over 60s league the A team played Culm Vale B in the 6th Division and won by 42 shots to 31.

Top triple was Peter Newton, Roy Carnell and Roger Woolland.

In the 7th division the B team played St. Thomas C team and the game was drawn 35 shots each.

The club travelled to Starcross on June 16th and, despite repeated showers, managed to play a four mixed rink game which Starcross won.

The only Seaton winning rink was Ann Joyner, Edward Harden, Barbara Thompson and Ken Shean.

Recent successes include Angie Mayhew and Shirley Parkhouse getting through to the area semi-final of the over 55 pairs and Bob Rutter and Philip Crichard are through to the last 16 of the County pairs.

A Seaton ladies triple consisting of Ann Wright, Angie Mayhew and Sue Rutter won the Sidmouth Spears Trophy for the third year running.

Ron Rowley and Roger Woolland won the section Grater pairs.

BEDFORD IS FENNY STAR

By KEVIN FAHEY
sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

AUSTRALIAN all-rounder Norman Bedford was Feniton's star performer as they picked up 20 points with an emphatic victory over Bridestowe in D Division of the Devon League.

First Bedford showed his skill with the ball as he claimed five wickets for 33 runs off his 12 overs after Feniton skipper Mark Kingdon put the home side in on a damp pitch after winning the toss.

With Kingdon also claiming 2-29 Bridestowe were bowled out for 136 leaving Feniton a comfortable target even if conditions meant patience was a virtue.

Coming in at No 3 Bedford showed he is more than capable with the bat as he hit an unbeaten 74 and with Charlie Selly, who finished unbeaten on 42, ensured Feniton reached their target for the loss of just one wicket.

"Norman is an Australian who married a Feniton girl and has been playing on and off for us over the past 15 years," explained Kingdon.

"He is over here for the summer to visit family and as well as playing for us is also helping with coaching the colts, for whom his lads also play.

"He has been fantastic for the club and we are delighted to have him."

The win took Feniton up to fourth place but Ottery St Mary are still the top local side after beating leaders Ipplepen on Saturday.

Batting first Ottery scored 139 all out, with skipper Jody Clements top scorer in the 40s and in reply Ipplepen were skittled out for 89 with left arm fast bowler Will Harrison taking five wickets.

In a game reduced to 39 overs due to the rain Axminster were held to a draw by Chagford. Put into bat Axminster started badly and were 8-2 and 55-5 before Dave Murname and skipper Paul Miller put on a 50-run partnership. Miller went on to make 60 while Danny Larcombe added a quickfire 24 with some huge hits late on to take Axminster to 184-7.

In reply Chagford were on the brink at 37-7 with Nick Taylor (3-45) and Gary Larcombe (2-25) doing the damage but unfortunately victory proved to be elusive.

"Chagford just shut up shop and while we took another two wickets they held on to reach 111-9 at the finish," said Miller. "We were disappointed we didn't snatch victory."

In the C Division Seaton skipper Ben Morgan scored 36 and Mark Hancock 22 as they reached 148-8 in difficult conditions. But on a drying pitch Bideford reeled off the runs with ease and for the loss of just one wicket.

Sadly in the E Division the match of the day between Upottery and Honiton, who were first and second in the league, was a victim of the rain.

"It was very frustrating as it meant we could only claim six points and have now dropped to third while Upottery are still top," said Honiton skipper Kevin Kelly.

"But you can't do much about the weather and hopefully our game at Kilmington will be on next week.

In F Division Yarcombe and Stockland were dismissed for 105 as they chased Topsham St James's total of 130 all out. Simon Howell was top scorer with 50 but got little support from the rest of the side.

AXMINSTER CRICKET

Axminster 2nd XI v Cornwood away

Axminster Captain Peter Kiy won the toss and asked Cornwood to bat first. His young bowlers found things tough going with openers Dibben (61) and Bees (46) setting up the innings. Dave Petherbridge with 79 not out, an innings that included 3 sixes and 11 fours, pushed the score to 244 for the loss of only 4 wickets, with Max Felgate returning the best figures of 3-47. It was also Max who featured with the bat when Axminster batted scoring 46 but with only 52 from Tom Maxwell the only other sizeable innings the visitors were a long way short of the total being bowled out for 165.

Axminster 3rd XI v North Devon away

The 3rd team were reduced to 8 players through various members opting out during the week and having travelled to north Devon were bowled out for 55. Apart from Jimmy Fragel returning figures of 3-30 there was little for the visitors to write home about as North Devon won by 7 wickets.

NEW RECORD FOR VILLAGE?

Skipper Beviss pleased with crushing victory

By KEVIN FAHEY
sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

Devon Cricket League
E Division
Babbacombe v Kilmington

KILMINGTON skipper Maurice Beviss believes his east Devon village side set a new E Division record after a crushing victory over Babbacombe.

The struggling south Devon side were whipped out for just 32 runs as they chased Kilmington's total of 123, the lowest total ever scored by a side in the division.

Beviss said: "According to the record books the previous lowest total was Bababcombe's 38 runs so unless anyone else has scored lower this season then that is a new record.

"We must be their bogey side because in the last four times we have played them we have bowled them out for 32 runs, 39, 44 and 59. They'll be glad to see the back of us!"

Keith Rockett did the damage with the ball taking six wickets for just 15 runs in a superb spell of eleven overs while Beviss chipped in with 2-11 and Hal Cook claimed 2-1 in just one over to finish off the home side.

Put into bat in damp conditions after losing the toss Kilmington had to work hard for their runs. Openers Graham Watts and Dave Cook both scored 13 each, Tom Gooding added 16 but it was Ralph Cook, coming in at number seven, who really pushed the score along with an unbeaten 38 as Kilmington reached 123 all out.

Beviss admitted: "Babbacombe bowled well and it was really hard to get the ball away."

Not as hard as Babbacombe found it as they reluctantly made history again.

He added: "That was a good result for us and has taken us up to fifth with Honiton (currently in third) to come next week."
